

Special Disclosure (February 2025)

Education programs and activities—including campus events, graduations, and institutional programming—do not segregate or classify students based on race, color, or national origin. All clubs and student organizations are open to everyone. Articles published in the student magazine represent students' free expression and will be labeled accordingly.